

MEDIA RESUME

Tim Takacs, Elder Law Expert

MASS MEDIA EXPERIENCE

Tim Takacs is known for witty and well-reasoned commentary on even the most inflammatory issues. He is skilled at explaining legal, financial, public benefits and caregiving realities in language families understand.

TV & RADIO

WTVF-TV Nashville: Monthly guest since 2003 on viewer call-in shows “Morning Line” and “Open Line”

Trinity Broadcasting Network: Network’s resident Elder Law expert, appearing on half-hour programs dedicated to the subject in 2011, 2010 and 2009

WSMV-TN Nashville: Provided expert commentary on a news segment on Medicaid estate recovery, 2006

PRINT

Tim Takacs has been quoted in articles about Medicaid estate recovery, durable powers of attorney and other elder law subjects in the following publications:

The Tennessean: Quoted in a story about Medicaid estate recovery in 2011

Christian Science Monitor: Quoted as an expert resource in an article about Medicaid estate recovery by Amy Green in 2006

The Wall Street Journal: Quoted extensively in an article about Powers of Attorney by Kelly Green in 2004, and in an article about Medicaid estate recovery by Sarah Lueck in 2005

Tim has also been quoted in articles appearing in Kiplinger’s Personal Finance and the Nashville Medical News.

LEGAL PUBLISHING CREDITS

Co-author and founder of the The NAELA eBulletin, a weekly newsletter of current news and cases for members of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys

Author of Elder Law Practice in Tennessee, a treatise for Tennessee attorneys, and A Guide to Elder Law Practice, both published by LEXIS Law Publishing

For more information about Tim Takacs, visit www.tn-elderlaw.com.

To book Tim on your program or to arrange for an interview, call 615.824.2571.